Item 8.01 Other Events.

On March 5, 2024, Direct Selling Acquisition Corp. (“DSAQ” or the “Company”) filed a definitive proxy statement (the “Proxy Statement”) in connection with a special meeting of stockholders to be held on March 21, 2024, to consider and act upon a proposal to (1) extend the date by which DSAQ has to consummate a business combination (the “Termination Date”) from March 28, 2024 to June 28, 2024 (the “Charter Extension Date”) and to allow DSAQ, without the need for another stockholder vote, to elect to extend the Termination Date to consummate a business combination on a monthly basis for up to nine times, by an additional one month each time, after the Charter Extension Date, by resolution of DSAQ’s board of directors (the “Board”), if requested by DSAC Partners LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “Sponsor”), (2) eliminate the limitation that DSAQ may not redeem Class A Common Stock to the extent that such redemption would result in DSAQ having net tangible assets of less than $5,000,001 (the “Redemption Limitation”) in order to allow DSAQ to redeem Class A Common Stock irrespective of whether such redemption would exceed the Redemption Limitation, and (3) to provide for the right of a holder of DSAQ’s Class B common stock, par value $0.0001 (the “Class B Common Stock”) to convert such Class B Common Stock into DSAQ’s Class A common stock, par value $0.0001 (the “Class A Common Stock”) on a one-for-one basis prior to the closing of a business combination at the election of the holder. The Proxy Statement was mailed to DSAQ’s stockholders of record as of February 29, 2024. Stockholders may obtain a copy of the Proxy Statement at the SEC’s website (www.sec.gov).

As set forth in the Proxy Statement, the deadline by which DSAQ’s public stockholders had to complete the procedures for electing to redeem their share of Class A Common Stock was 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, on March 19, 2024 (“Redemption Deadline”). The initial number of shares of Class A Common Stock tendered for redemption prior to the Redemption Deadline was 3,651,758.

The deadline for stockholders to withdraw previously submitted redemption requests is March 21, 2024, prior to 10:00 a.m., Eastern Time, subject to approval by the board of directors of DSAQ. Stockholders may make such request by contacting our transfer agent, Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, at One State Street Plaza, 30th Floor, New York, New York 10004, Attn: SPAC Redemptions; Email: spacredemptions@continentalstock.com.

Conversion of Class B Ordinary Shares.

The Sponsor has informed the Company that it expects to convert an aggregate of 5,749,000 Class B Common Stock into Class A Common Stock on a one-for-one basis the next business day following the special meeting. The Sponsor has agreed to waive any right to receive funds from DSAQ’s trust account with respect to the Class A Common Stock received upon such conversion and will acknowledge that such shares will be subject to all of the restrictions applicable to the original Class B Common Stock under the terms of that certain letter agreement, dated as of September 23, 2021, by and among the Company, its directors and officers and the Sponsor.

Update to Proxy Statement Disclosure.

The Company wishes to clarify that in the event a business combination is not consummated, the funds in DSAQ’s trust account, including any interest earned thereon, will not be used to pay for any excise tax imposed under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022.

The below disclosure in pages 3-4 in the Proxy Statement is amended as follows:

“A new 1% U.S. federal excise tax could be imposed on us in connection with redemptions by us of our shares.

On August 16, 2022, the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 (the “IR Act”) was signed into federal law. The IR Act provides for, among other things, a 1% excise tax on certain repurchased (including redemptions) of stock by “covered corporations” beginning in 2023, with certain exceptions (the “Excise Tax”). The Excise Tax is imposed on the repurchasing corporation and the amount of the Excise Tax is generally 1% of the fair market value of the stock repurchased. However, for purposes of calculating the Excise Tax, repurchasing corporations are permitted to net the fair market value of certain new stock issuances against the fair market value of stock repurchases during the same taxable year. In addition, certain exceptions apply to the Excise Tax. The U.S. Department of Treasury has been given authority to provide regulations and other guidance to carry out and prevent the abuse or avoidance of the Excise Tax. The IR Act applies only to repurchases that occur after December 31, 2022, including any redemptions in connection with the Business Combination or in the event we do not consummate the Business Combination by the Charter Extension Date (as defined below).

On December 27, 2022, the Treasury published Notice 2023-2, which provided clarification on some aspects of the application of the Excise Tax, including with respect to some transactions in which SPACs typically engage. In the notice, the Treasury appears to have intended to exempt from the Excise Tax any distributions, including those that occur in connection with redemptions, by a corporation in the same year it completely liquidates, but the guidance is not clearly drafted and arguably could be interpreted to have a narrower application. If the Company does not issue shares sufficient to offset redemptions, it may become subject to the Excise Tax imposed by the IR Act with respect of the Extension Amendment redemptions. Nevertheless, it remains uncertain whether, and/or to what extent, the Excise Tax could apply to redemptions of our stock. In order to mitigate the current uncertainty surrounding the implementation of the IR Act, in the event that the Extension Amendment Proposal and/or the Redemption Limitation Amendment Proposal are approved and implemented as described in this proxy statement, prior to the consummation of the Business Combination, funds in the Trust Account, including any interest earned thereon, will not be used to pay for any Excise Tax liabilities with respect to any redemptions of Class A Common Stock by the Company.

As described under “Proposal No. 1 — The Extension Amendment Proposal,” if the Termination Date (as defined below) is extended, our public stockholders will have the right to require us to redeem their shares of Class A Common Stock. Any redemption or other repurchase that we make that occurs after December 31, 2023 may be subject to the Excise Tax. Whether and to what extent we would be subject to the Excise Tax would depend on a number of factors, including (i) the fair market value of the redemptions and repurchases in connection with our initial business combination, (ii) the structure of the Business Combination, (iii) the nature and amount of any “PIPE” or other equity issuances in connection with the Business Combination (or otherwise issued not in connection with the Business Combination but issued within the same taxable year of the Business Combination), (iv) whether we consummate the Business Combination by the Charter Extension Date and (v) the content of regulations and other guidance from the U.S. Department of Treasury. Prior to the consummation of the Business Combination, funds in the Trust Account, including any interest thereon, will not be used to pay for any Excise Taxes. If we consummate the Business Combination, any Excise Taxes would reduce the funds available to PubCo for working capital following the Business Combination. In the event a Business Combination is not consummated, the funds in the Trust Account, including any interest earned thereon, will not be used to pay for any excise tax imposed under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 (emphasis added).”
